Cafe Carlyle

Tuesday through Friday, 8:45 p.m. daily, $50-$120 When they were getting Bombshell ready for Broadway on the two seasons of NBC's Smash, wasn't the idea that an actual production would ultimately show up on the actual Broadway? If so, mightn't this in-the-flesh bombshell, who played Ivy Lynn, be the one impersonating Marilyn Monroe? Unfortunately, it wasn't to be, but here's the consolation prize. At her first outing in this swanky uptown boite, she'll sing some of the series songs, most of them written by Scott Wittman and Marc Shaiman, as well as other hot numbers. -- By David Finkle
