

VANITY FAIR

April 7, 2015

CULTURE

The 5 Must-See Coachella Acts, from Drake to FKA Twigs

Plus, see the New York City Ballet's golden boy bring the heat to Miami, Lena Hall at Café Carlyle, and a painting you've definitely seen before, but probably can't name.

Every week in the Culture List, Vanity Fair editors present a ruthlessly curated selection of parties, art openings, exhibits, and mustn't-miss events. This week's list includes Southern California's celebrity-ridden Coachella, street-art ballet, and Katsushika Hokusai's Under the Wave Off Kanagawa—as in, the Japanese wave painting on the walls of elementary-school art classes around the country.

By Dave Kotinsky/Getty Images.

Lena Hall at the Café Carlyle

Carlyle Hotel, New York

April 7–18

Hedwig and the Angry Inch's Lena Hall trades drag queen for debutante with a two-week residency at the storied Café Carlyle. It is the Tony Award winner's debut at the venue—which has boasted an impressive roster of Broadway and Hollywood heavyweights—but if there's one thing we know about Yitzhak, nothing's going to tear her down.