

Pitchfork

March 8, 2016

Michael C. Hall, Lena Hall Announce Radiohead Tribute Concert

For one night only on March 19

Michael C. Hall ("Dexter," "Six Feet Under") and Lena Hall, who co-starred in a recent Broadway production of Hedwig and the Angry Inch, will perform songs by Radiohead at an upcoming tribute concert, as The New York Times reports. "Radiohead: Obsessed" will see the duo performing songs from the whole Radiohead catalogue, from 1992's Pablo Honey to 2011's The King of Limbs. It all goes down at NYC's Café Carlyle on March 19.

Lena Hall has covered Radiohead songs before. Michael C. Hall was recently the star of the late David Bowie's musical, Lazarus, one of Bowie's final projects.

<http://pitchfork.com/news/64010-michael-c-hall-lena-hall-announce-radiohead-tribute-concert/>

Pitchfork

March 8, 2016

Read our Pitch piece "19 Unreleased Radiohead Songs That Could Be on Their Next Album."

Watch the video for The King of Limbs track "Lotus Flower" below:

<http://pitchfork.com/news/64010-michael-c-hall-lena-hall-announce-radiohead-tribute-concert/>