

November 9, 2015

NIGHT LIFE

JAZZ AND STANDARDS

John Pizzarelli and Jessica Molaskey

There are good reasons why the guitarist and singer Pizzarelli and his vocalist wife, Molaskey, rule the cabaret world. Superb musicality doesn't hurt, but neither does natural charm or unforced enthusiasm. Supported by a crack trio, the enchanting duo will perform seventies classics from their upcoming album, "My Generation," as well as material from Pizzarelli's "Midnight McCartney" project, which puts a breezy jazz spin on Sir Paul's work. (Café Carlyle, Madison Ave. at 76th St. 212-744-1600. Nov. 3-7 and Nov. 10. Through Nov. 28.)