

THE NEW YORKER

April 4, 2016

NIGHT LIFE

JAZZ AND STANDARDS

Steven Page

If you're a literate (and aging) rocker with pop-pish singer-songwriter inclinations, a gig at this venerable yet rapidly changing night spot may be in your not too distant future. A former member of Canada's Barenaked Ladies, Page will offer barbed yet reflective songs from his current "Heal Thyself Pt. 1: Instinct" album. (Café Carlyle, Carlyle Hotel, Madison Ave. at 76th St. 212-744-1600. Through April 2.)